Indian WatersRV Resort, Indio

Thursday

Another opportunity to meet and greet in the street. If you don't believe me check out the picture. The big question was where are you eating dinner. No question for us. Three couples went to Ciro's. They love the Shrimp Thai dish. Well there was one odd ball that doesn't do pasta. It was apparently just as yummy as always and leftovers were joyfully taken home. I'm sorry I did not hear where others went. This social distancing has really put a cramp in my eyes dropping er listening ability.

Folding the flag after the Pledge of Allegiance

Friday

The day dawned bright and sunny as it does in the desert. We took off and went on a secret assignment to get a hair cut. By the time we came back everyone was at Roger and Maryns'. After moving over to Kathy and Gary's for the shade our group expanded and expanded. It was men to the right and women to the left. It made talking so much easier. One group had gone to look at a RV RESORT, but no one wanted to buy a casita. We scattered for dinner and had a nice lantern fire, as it was too warm for a fire.

Trying to conduct the meeting in the horrific wind

Saturday

Unfortunately, the wind really picked up during the night. Some felt the gusts push their motor homes while others put their slides in. There was a minor tragedy. Kathy and Gary lost the cover of their air conditioning unit. Luckily it's an easy fix. It was still raging in the morning. Time for our meeting and muffins. Maryn said the meeting would be easy-breezy. No truer words were spoken. It was definitely breezy!! Poor Roger and Jim struggled to read their reports with the papers flying up. No guests, and no golf to report. The muffins were great. Some of us decided to go to Shields for dates and Gary wanted to see the movie Romancing the Date. Unfortunately, you got it, no movie because of the virus. Then the rains came. A hard fought game of 5 Crowns was played. I consider myself the spoiler. Bad hands in the beginning and at the end I try to catch people with lots of points. .

Meeting participants holding their hats and chairs.

Sunday

Not many of us were leaving today and the question was if it was going to be windy. We headed out early hoping to miss the rain and wind but unfortunately we had both. Had patches of snow when we got home and late in the afternoon it started snowing but nothing stuck.

ON THE OWY LIST

Trish and Jeff got his sister moved down with them. Unfortunately, she came with her dog and had to stay with them for a few weeks. Her dog and the neighbors were chasing and ran into to Trish who fell on the concrete. She broke her right arm and will be in the cast for quite a while as it was a bad break.

Bill Z. went in for a bone marrow biopsy and I have not heard the results. Their son Adam is donating half his liver to his father in law. He and his wife will be in SF for the surgery and Bill and Patty will be baby sitting their four grandkids.

Our prayers and good wishes go out to Karen after the surgery on her feet.

THIS AND THAT

Such sad news about Art B. Such a lovely cheerful person. He would come in early for coffee and if it was not ready yet he would just sit and talk. All our prayers to Sylvia.

Just heard that Sherry P. has moved Steve to a dementia Home. She can visit him when she wants. When I asked if I could put this in the newsletter she said she did not think anyone remembered them. I assured her that was not true. If you have a minute drop her a line or call. I know she would greatly appreciate it.

Another sad death was the loss of Miss Lucy, Sharon and Mikes beloved fur baby. So sorry for your loss.

MORE WD-40 USES

21. Lubricates gear shift and mower deck levers for ease of handling on riding mowers.
 22. Rids kids rocking chairs and swings of squeaky noises.
 23. Lubricates tracks on sticking home windows and makes them easier to open.
 24. Spraying an umbrella stem makes it easier to open and close.
 25. Restores and cleans padded leather dashboards in vehicles, as well as vinyl bumpers.
 26. Restores and cleans roof racks on vehicles.
 27. Lubricates and stops squeaks in electric fans.
 28. Lubricates wheel sprockets on tricycles, wagons, and bicycles for easy handling.
 29. Lubricates fan belts on washers and dryers and keeps them running smoothly.
 30. Keeps rust from forming on saws and saw blades and other tools.
 31. Removes splattered grease on stove.
 32. Keeps bathroom mirror from fogging.
 33. Lubricates prosthetic limbs.
 34. Keeps pigeons off the balcony (they hate the smell).
 35. Folks even spray it on their arms, hands and knees to relieve arthritis pain.
 36. Removes all traces of duct tape.
 37. Florida's favorite use it cleans and removes love bugs from grills and bumpers..
 38. The favorite use in the state of New York, WD-40 protects the Statue of Liberty from the elements.
 39. WD-40 attracts fish. Spray a little on live bait or lures and you will be catching the big one in no time. Also, it's a lot cheaper than the chemical attractants that are made for just that purpose. Keep in mind though using some chemical laces baits or lures for fishing are not allowed in some states.
- P. S. The main ingredient is fish oil.

Happy Thanksgiving

Only in Texas my friends... Only in Texas...

A lawyer, on his way to Dallas, runs a stop sign and gets pulled over by a Sheriff's deputy. He thinks that he is smarter than the deputy because he is a lawyer from New York and is certain that he has a better education than any law enforcement officer from Cumby, TX. He decides to prove this to himself and have some fun at the Deputy's expense.

The Deputy says, 'License and registration, please.' 'What for?' says the lawyer... The Deputy says, 'You didn't come to a complete stop at the stop sign.' Then the lawyer says, 'I slowed down, and no one was coming.' 'You still didn't come to a complete stop, Says the deputy.

License and registration, please.' The lawyer says, 'What's the difference?' 'The difference is you have to come to a complete stop, that's the law.

License and registration, please!' the Deputy repeats.. Lawyer says, 'If you can show me the legal difference between slow down and stop, I'll give you my license and registration; and you give me the ticket... If not, you let me go and don't give me the ticket.'

'That sounds fair. Please exit your vehicle, sir,' the Deputy says. At this point, the Deputy takes out his nightstick and starts beating the lawyer and says, 'Do you want me to stop, or just slow down?'

Went to Walmart ,Sam's, Costco and a lot of their shelves were empty. Welcome to a good look at socialism !!!

Socialism definition is - any of various economic and political theories advocating collective or governmental ownership and administration of the means of production and distribution of goods.

Sooo!!!

After I retired, my wife insisted that I accompany her on her trips to Target. Unfortunately, like most men; I found shopping boring and preferred to get in and get out. Equally unfortunate, my wife is like most women -she loves to browse. Yesterday my dear wife received the following letter, from the local Target:

Dear Mrs. Dew :

Over the past six months, your husband has caused quite a commotion, in our store. We cannot tolerate this behavior and have been forced to ban both of you from the store. Our complaints against your husband, Mr. Dew, are listed below and are documented by our video surveillance cameras:

1. June 15: He took 24 boxes of condoms and randomly put them in other people's carts when they weren't looking.
2. July 2: Set all the alarm clocks in Housewares to go off at 5-minute intervals.
3. July 7: He made a trail of tomato juice on the floor leading to the women's restroom.
4. July 19: Walked up to an employee and told her in an official voice, 'Code 3 in Housewares. Get on it right away'. This caused the employee to leave her assigned station and receive a reprimand from her Supervisor that in turn resulted with a union grievance, causing management to lose time and costing the company money. We don't have a Code 3.
5. August 4: Went to the Service Desk and tried to put a bag of M&Ms on layaway.
6. August 14: Moved a 'CAUTION - WET FLOOR' sign to a carpeted area.
7. August 15: Set up a tent in the camping department and told the children shoppers he'd invite them in if they would bring pillows and blankets from the bedding department to which twenty children obliged.

8. August 23: When a clerk asked if they could help him, he began crying and screamed, 'Why can't you people just leave me alone?' EMT's were called.

9. September 4: Looked right into the security camera and used it as a mirror while he picked his nose.

10. September 10: While handling guns in the hunting department, he asked the clerk where the antidepressants were.

11. October 3: Darted around the store suspiciously while, loudly humming the, 'Mission Impossible' theme.

12. October 6: In the auto department, he practiced his, 'Madonna Look' using different sizes of funnels.

13. October 18: Hid in a clothing rack and when people browsed through, yelled 'PICK ME! PICK ME!'

14. October 22: When an announcement came over the loud speaker, he assumed a fetal position and screamed; 'OH NO! IT'S THOSE VOICES AGAIN!'

15. Took a box of condoms to the checkout clerk and asked "where is the fitting room?"

And last, but not least:

16. October 23: Went into a fitting room, shut the door, waited awhile; then yelled very loudly, 'Hey! There's no toilet paper in here!' One of the clerks passed out.

If you don't send this to your dearest friends you will be depriving them of some good humor ...

While riding my Harley, I swerved to avoid hitting a deer, lost control and landed in a ditch, severely banging my head.

Dazed and confused I crawled out of the ditch to the edge of the road when a shiny new convertible pulled up with a very beautiful woman who asked, "Are you okay"?

As I looked up, I noticed she was wearing a low-cut blouse with cleavage to die for...

"I'm okay I think," I replied as I pulled myself up to the side of the car to get a closer look.

She said, "Get in and I'll take you home, so I can clean and bandage that nasty scrape on your head."

"That's nice of you," I answered, "but I don't think my wife will like me doing that!"

"Oh, come now, I'm a nurse," she insisted. "I need to see if you have any more scrapes and then treat them properly."

Well, she was really pretty and very persuasive. Being sort of shaken and weak, I agreed, but repeated, "I'm sure my wife won't like this."

We arrived at her place which was just few miles away, and after a couple of cold beers and the bandaging, I thanked her and said, "I feel a lot better, but I know my wife is going to be really upset so I'd better go now."

"Don't be silly!", she said with a smile. "Stay for a while. She won't know anything. By the way, where is she?"

😬😬 "Still in the ditch, I guess." 😬😬

And that's why I don't ride on the back of Terry's Harley!!!
